PREFACE

Shortly after the Williams County Genealogical Society was organized in May 1981, the membership planned the long-range objective of publishing the tombstone inscriptions of the county's cemeteries. The plan began to take shape when Marshall Robinette's Cemetery materials were donated to the Society. With this data, which we used as a foundation, we began the long process of checking names, dates, and other records to the existing tombstones of the cemeteries located in Center Township.

The cemeteries were read by rows thereby keeping the family relationships through the position of burial plots to the surrounding stones. Once this was accomplished the work of computer key-boarding the data was performed as well as the surname index which was prepared and placed at the end of this volume for easy usage.

The following abbreviations were employed for greater efficiency when the data was compiled:

b.	born	h/o	husband of
d.	died	w/o	wife of
m.	married	m/o	mother of
ae	age	f/o	father of
y	year(s)	s/o	son of
m	month(s)	d/o	daughter of
d	day(s)	br/o	brother of
		sis/o	sister of

The W.C.G.S. hopes to publish future cemetery volumes in order to preserve these basic genealogical materials. If the reader finds any material which is not correct, he/she is welcome to submit said correction(s) to W.C.G.S.

In conclusion, the reader must understand that the data included here was taken from the tombstones exactly as it appeared. If additional material was known it was placed in parentheses ( ) to augment the compilation. Some of these inscriptions were copied about ten years ago by Kermit Hillard. We have taken the liberty of referring to Mr. Hillard's records in cases where he was able to read a stone now missing or unreadable. These references will be found in ( ) followed by H. It is possible that a person might be buried in one of these cemeteries and not have a tombstone; therefore the cemetery data for this person would probably not be found in this volume. Most of the cemeteries in Center Township have either no existing records, or records only for post W.W. II burials. In the older cemeteries some stones are broken, pieces missing or buried under the sod. These were read to the best of our ability with the possibilty of error.

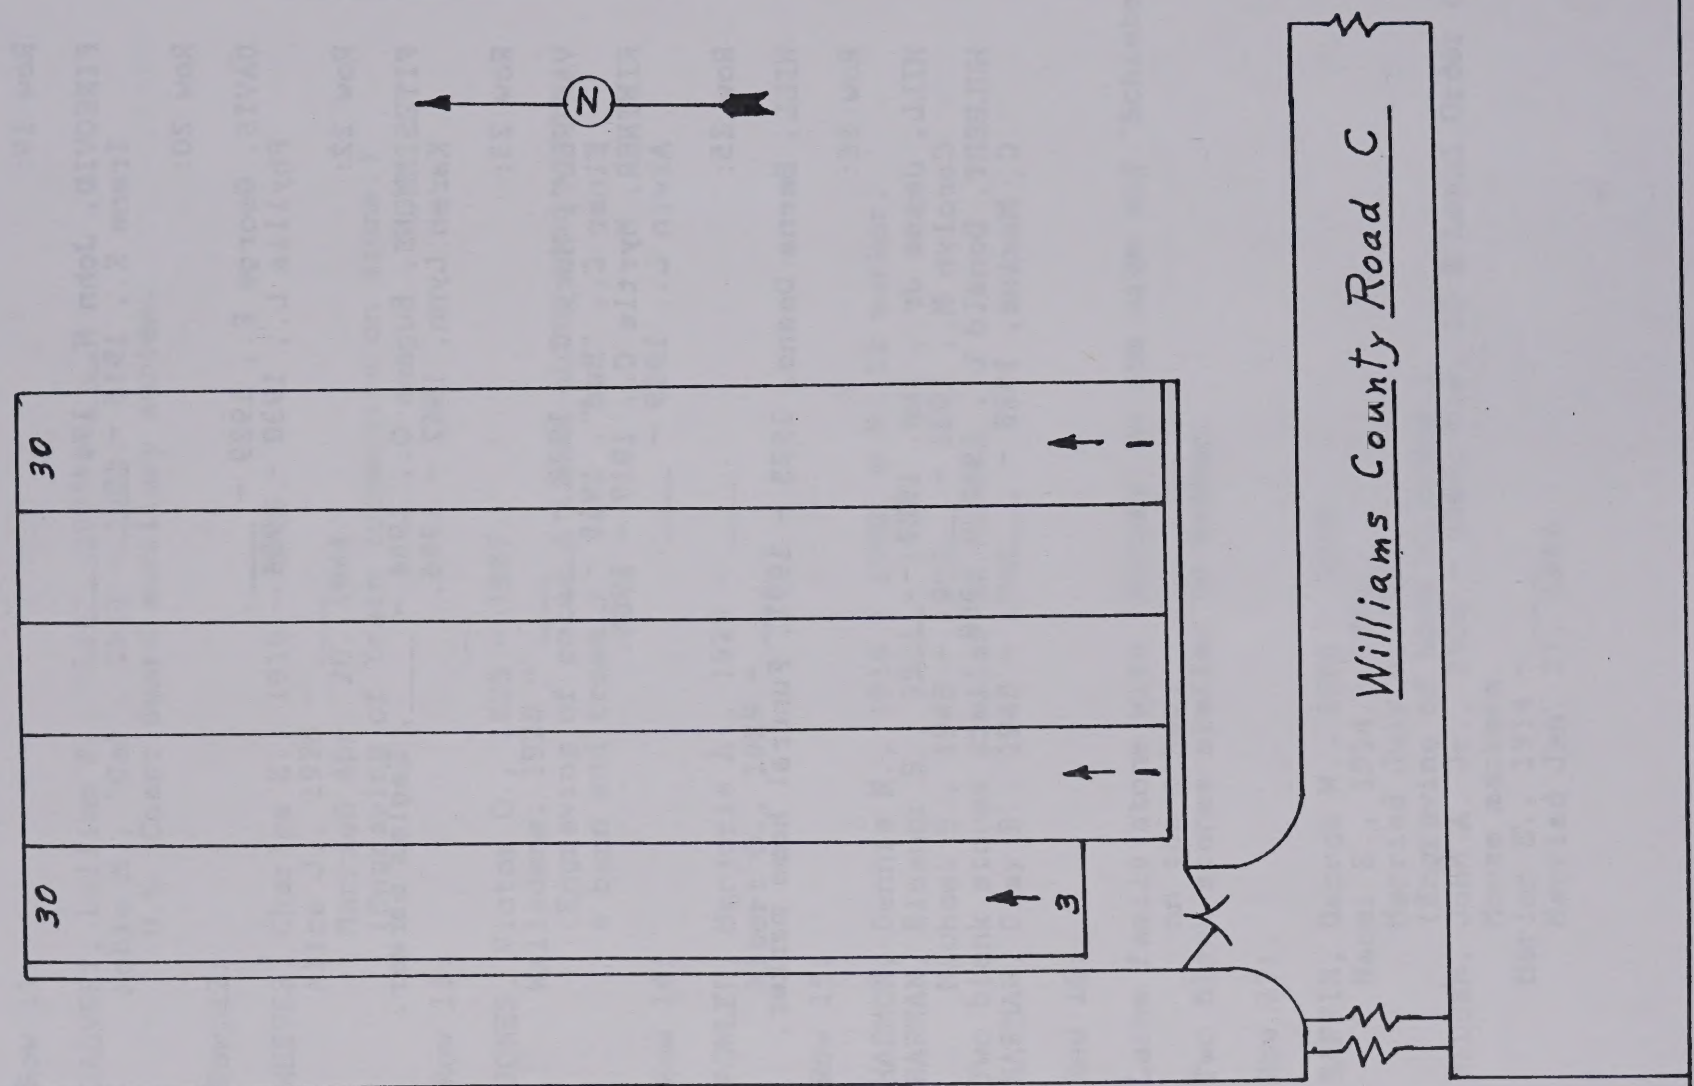
FETTER CEMETERY



State Route 576

2 Miles North Of Williams Center, Ohio

FETTER'S CEMETERY

Location: Section 27, Center Twp., Williams County, Ohio. No access except through a field about 1/4 mile west of Rt. 576 and 3/4 mile north of U.S. Rt. 6. The small cemetery is on a high knoll between a deep gully and a small creek, not readily visible from the road.

History: The cemetery was the burial place of the Fetters family and their close neighbors. The farm on which it was located was deeded by the State of Ohio to Jacob Fetters, Sept. 23, 1834. The first burial in the plot was that of Solomon Fetters, age 2 years, May 31, 1836, presumably a child of Jacob Fetters. This was followed by the death of Jacob Fetters, veteran of the War of 1812, in December the same year. Many of the tombstones were thrown over the fence into the creek when the cemetery was vandalized in the mid 1950's. We have added the names of people known to have been buried there, plus extracts from the records of Mr. Hillard who copied the inscriptions about twenty years ago when more stones still remained, especially of the Fetters family. The land remained in the hands of the Fetters family until 1907. In the same year the cemetery plot was deeded to the Center Township Trustees. It was neglected and almost forgotton, and became a jungle of trees, shrubs, and lilies until the summer of 1989 when it was cleaned up under the direction of the trustees.

Although burials were made in rows, no attempt was made to read the stones that way because most are broken and scattered so that it is impossible to tell in many cases where the stones were originally placed. It was read in October, 1990, by Donald Crepps and Gladys Donson for the W.C.G.S.

MELBERN (or NEIDHARDT) CEMETERY

This family cemetery is located in Section 21, Center Township, Williams County, Ohio, on the former farm of Jacob Neihardt (Nihart, etc.) who settled there in 1837. The cemetery is located in a field south of the railroad, and about a half mile east of County Road 9. There is no access from the road except on foot. The plot is overgrown with weeds and grass. Many of the stones are broken or lie flat on the ground. The earliest burial appears to be that of Henry "Nihart" in Feb. of 1846, the latest burial that of Anna Mary Nihart, wife of Jacob, in 1893. Some of the burials appear to be that of neighbors of the Niharts, as the names appear on early plat maps of the area.

This cemetery was read in June of 1990 by Donald Crepps and Gladys Donson.

The stones were read at random as they were found. It was impossible to determine if the burials had ever been made in rows.

Largest stone in the cemetery is that of Jacob Nihart, his wife and his mother probably placed after the death of his wife in 1893.

Location: The Williams Center cemetery is located on the west side of the village of Williams Center, on the west side of State Route 576, about 1/4 mile north of the intersection of State Routes 2 and 576, Section 34, Center Township. It is one of the oldest cemeteries (platted in 1836) in the county and presently very well kept up, though it suffered some neglect in its earlier years.
This cemetery read by Gladys Donson.

PREFACE

Shortly after the Williams County Genealogical Society was organized in May 1981, the membership planned the long-range objective of publishing the tombstone inscriptions of the county's cemeteries. The plan began to take shape when Marshall Robinette's Cemetery materials were donated to the Society. With this data, which we used as a foundation, we began the long process of transferring the information his records supplied us to our own 3 x 5 index cards. Through a series of "cemetery parties" we collectively/individually checked the names, dates, and other records from the existing tombstones of the cemeteries located in Pulaski Township and the City of Bryan's Fountain Grove Cemetery.

After the data was checked and re-checked, the information was organized, if possible, as to how the tombstones were found, thereby giving the "user" a better idea of family relationships through the position of burial plots to the surrounding stones. Once this was accomplished the tedious work of typing the car data onto sheets was performed. From the sheets we then indexed by surnames all the entries from the three cemeteries in Pulaski Township. This surname index was then typed and placed at the end of this volume for easy usage.

For the Fountain Grove Cemetery in Bryan we contacted the Bryan City Street Department. From there we copied the files of the lot owners and used those to get the people who were buried there but may not have had a tombstone or other marker or whose tombstone may have crumbled with age and/or been difficult to read.

The following abbreviations were employed for greater efficiency when the data was compiled:

b.	born	h/o	husband of
d.	died	w/o	wife of
m.	married	m/o	mother of
ae	age	f/o	father of
y	year(s)	s/o	son of
m	month(s)	d/o	daughter of
d	day(s)	br/o	brother of
		sis/o	sister of

The W.C.G.S. hopes to publish future cemetery volumes in order to preserve these basic genealogical materials. If the reader finds any material which is not correct, he/she is welcome to submit said correction(s) to W.C.G.S.

In conclusion, the reader must understand that the data included here was taken from the tombstones exactly as it appeared. If additional material was known it was placed in parentheses ( ) to augment the compilation. It is also possible that a person might be buried in one of these cemeteries and not have a tombstone; therefore the cemetery data for this person would probably not be found in this volume.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF FOUNTAIN GROVE CEMETERY

According to Bowersox, Volume I, p 430-432, "When the County was new and there was no community cemetery, the pioneers buried their dead on their own farms, sometimes at the foot of a garden or orchard." Beginning about 1841 there was a public burying place near the site of Gustave Christman's flour mills and the Jacob Halm brewery. As the town grew, so did the need for a quiet, secluded place that could be enlarged and landscaped as the years passed.

The first official meeting of the Fountain Grove Cemetery Association was held on January 26, 1855. By-laws were later adopted on February 2, 1855. Several years passed before regular burials took place. (See VanGundy's Stories of the Fountain City, p 4-8). This new cemetery first known as South Cemetery or Fountain Lawn was later called Fountain Grove Cemetery, located one mile south of the public square.

On May 30, 1873 the first Decoration Day was observed at Fountain Grove Cemetery. In 1877 a house for the first sexton, O. L. Brown, was built, along with the privilege of farming unoccupied ground. Jacob Schartzer took over later as sexton to be followed by Matthias Blessing, who served in that capacity for thirty-one years. Mr. Blessing planned the tree and shrubbery layout as well as grading the cemetery. In 1880 the cemetery trustees drilled a flowing fountain and converted an unsightly pond into a little lake spanned with a lovely bridge. German carp were placed in this lake. The fountain, the fish, and the lake are a memory today.

Legal hasseling with locals can be cited in the VanGundy account, but a humorous account found in the "Bryan Press", May 1891, should be included here: "People should remember to drive no faster than a walk in Fountain Grove Cemetery. It is unseemly to have a horse race in the cemetery as was done after the funeral Sunday."

The Fountain Grove Mausoleum was built in 1912 and had 168 crypts. The cost of this building was $25,000 with a fund of $1,000 set aside for upkeep and perpetual care according to the Bowersox account.

In 1968 through a city charter amendment the Bryan City Council took direct control of the cemetery with the upkeep delegated to the city street department.

PREFACE

Shortly after the Williams County Genealogical Society was organized in May 1981, the membership planned the long-range objective of publishing the tombstone inscriptions of the county's cemeteries. The plan began to take shape when Marshall Robinette's Cemetery materials were donated to the Society. With this data, which we used as a foundation, we began the long process of checking names, dates, and other records to the existing tombstones of the cemeteries located in Springfield Township.

The cemeteries were read by rows thereby keeping the family relationships through the position of burial plots to the surrounding stones. Once this was accomplished the work of computer key-boarding the data was performed as well as the surname index which was prepared and placed at the end of this volume for easy usage.

The following abbreviations were employed for greater efficiency when the data was compiled:

b.	born	h/o	husband of
d.	died	w/o	wife of
m.	married	m/o	mother of
ae	age	f/o	father of
y	year(s)	s/o	son of
m	month(s)	d/o	daughter of
d	day(s)	br/o	brother of
		sis/o	sister of

The W.C.G.S. hopes to publish future cemetery volumes in order to preserve these basic genealogical materials. If the reader finds any material which is not correct, he/she is welcome to submit said correction(s) to W.C.G.S.

In conclusion, the reader must understand that the data included here was taken from the tombstones exactly as it appeared. If additional material was known it was placed in parentheses ( ) to augment the compilation. Some of these inscriptions were copied about ten years ago by Kermit Hillard. We have taken the liberty of referring to Mr. Hillard's records in cases where he was able to read a stone now missing or unreadable. These references will be found in ( ) followed by H. It is possible that a person might be buried in one of these cemeteries and not have a tombstone; therefore the cemetery data for this person would probably not be found in this volume. Most of the cemeteries in Springfield Township have either no existing records, or records only for post W.W. II burials. In the older cemeteries some stones are broken, pieces missing or buried under the sod. These were read to the best of our ability with the possibilty of error.

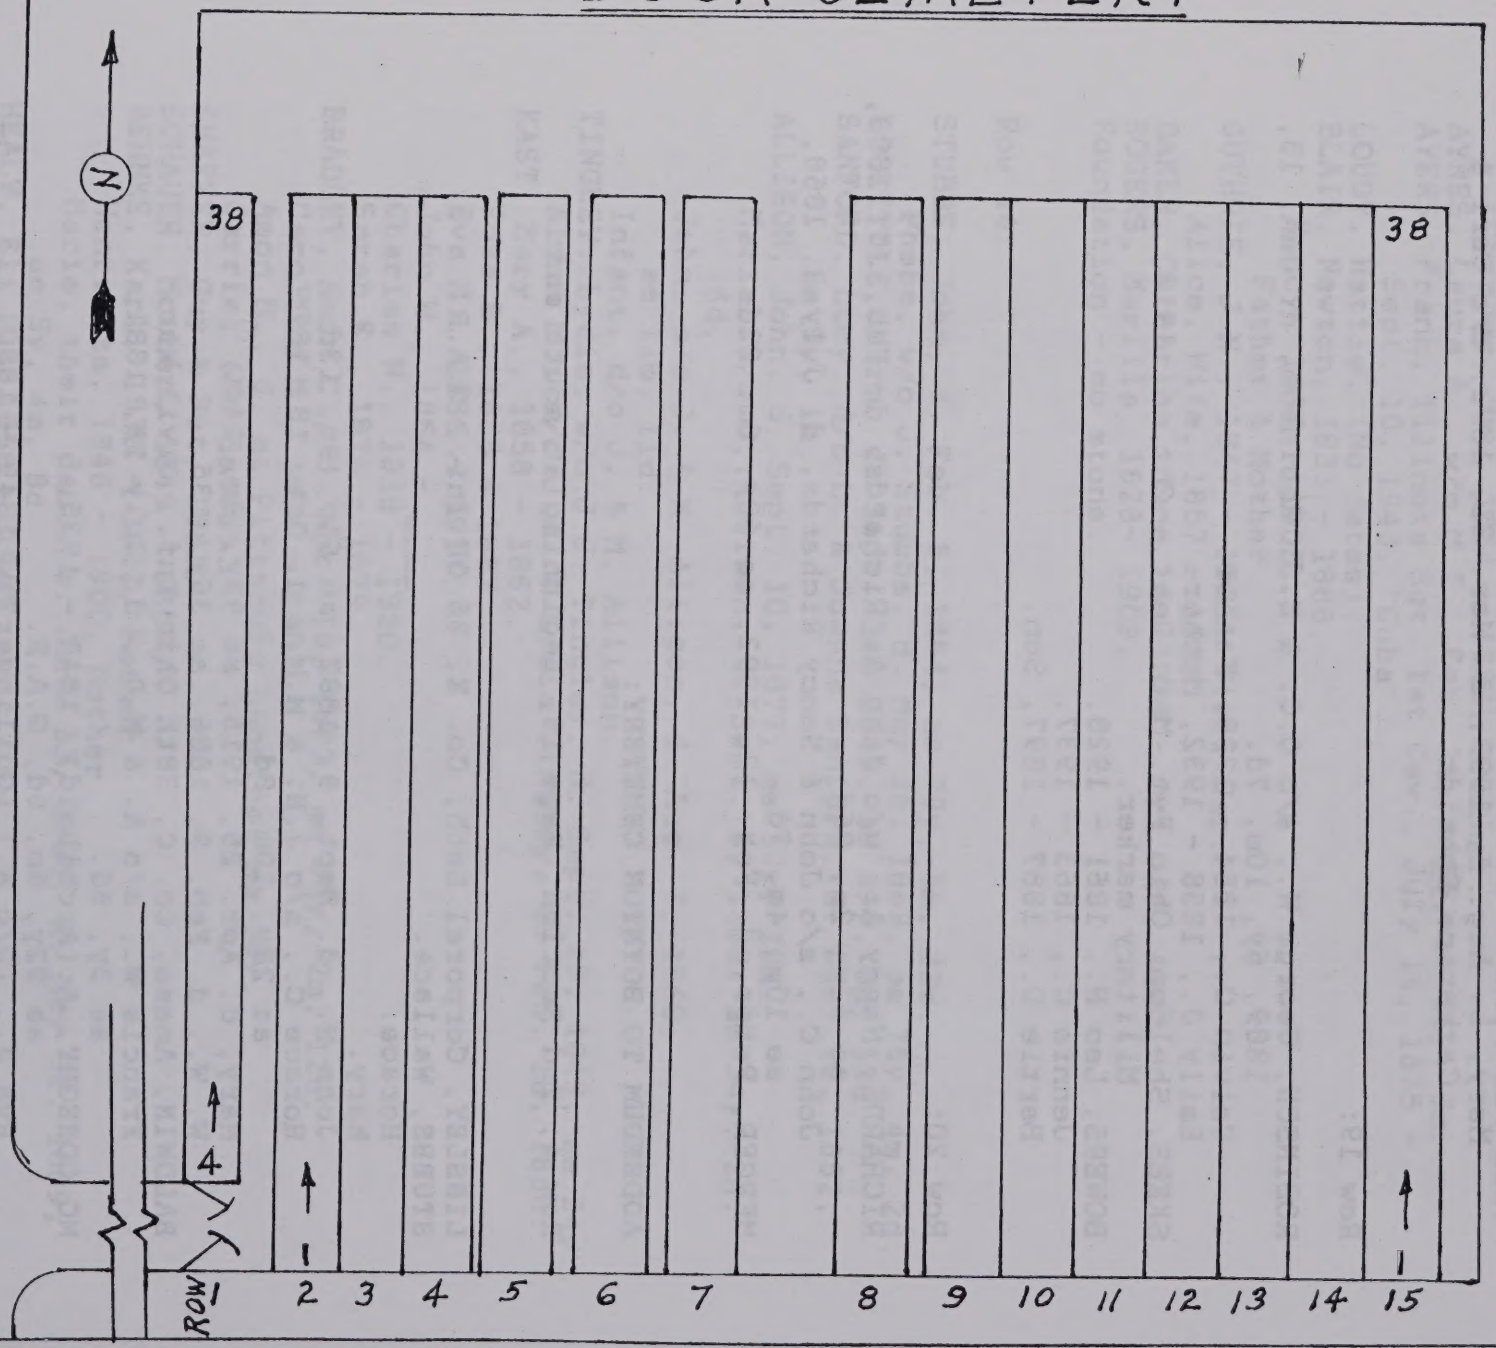
BUCK CEMETERY



Williams County Road A

Buck Cemetary, also referred to in early records as "Riverside", is located in Section 32, Springfield Township. It is reached by a private road leading east off of the Williams-Defiance County line road at the point where the road makes a curve to the south a couple miles west of Evansport. The cemetery is on a knoll surrounded by woods. It is isolated and has suffered severe vandalism repeatedly. The township trustees have done a remarkable job in keeping this cemetery up in spite of this fact, but many of the stones are broken, pieces are missing or buried under the sod. Some stones have disappeared completely, The inscriptions were copied about ten years ago by Kermit Hillard. We have taken the liberty of referring to Mr. Hillard's records in cases where he was able to read a stone now missing or unreadable. These references will be found in ( ) followed by H. This cemetery was copied in October, 1988, for the Williams Co. Genealogical Society by Gladys Donson and Pat Braun.

This cemetery was deeded to Woolrey Coonrod in 1831. A party of young people were picnicing on the banks of Bean Creek and a young woman, reclining on the grass in the sun, said: "When I die, just bury me right here." The tradition is that she died not long after, and, her words being remembered, hers was the first burial in the Buck Cemetery. A marker dated 1834 has the name of Huldah Coonrod. This contribution from Donald Crepps, Bryan, Ohio.

We started reading at the front of the cemetery, next to the driveway, south to north.

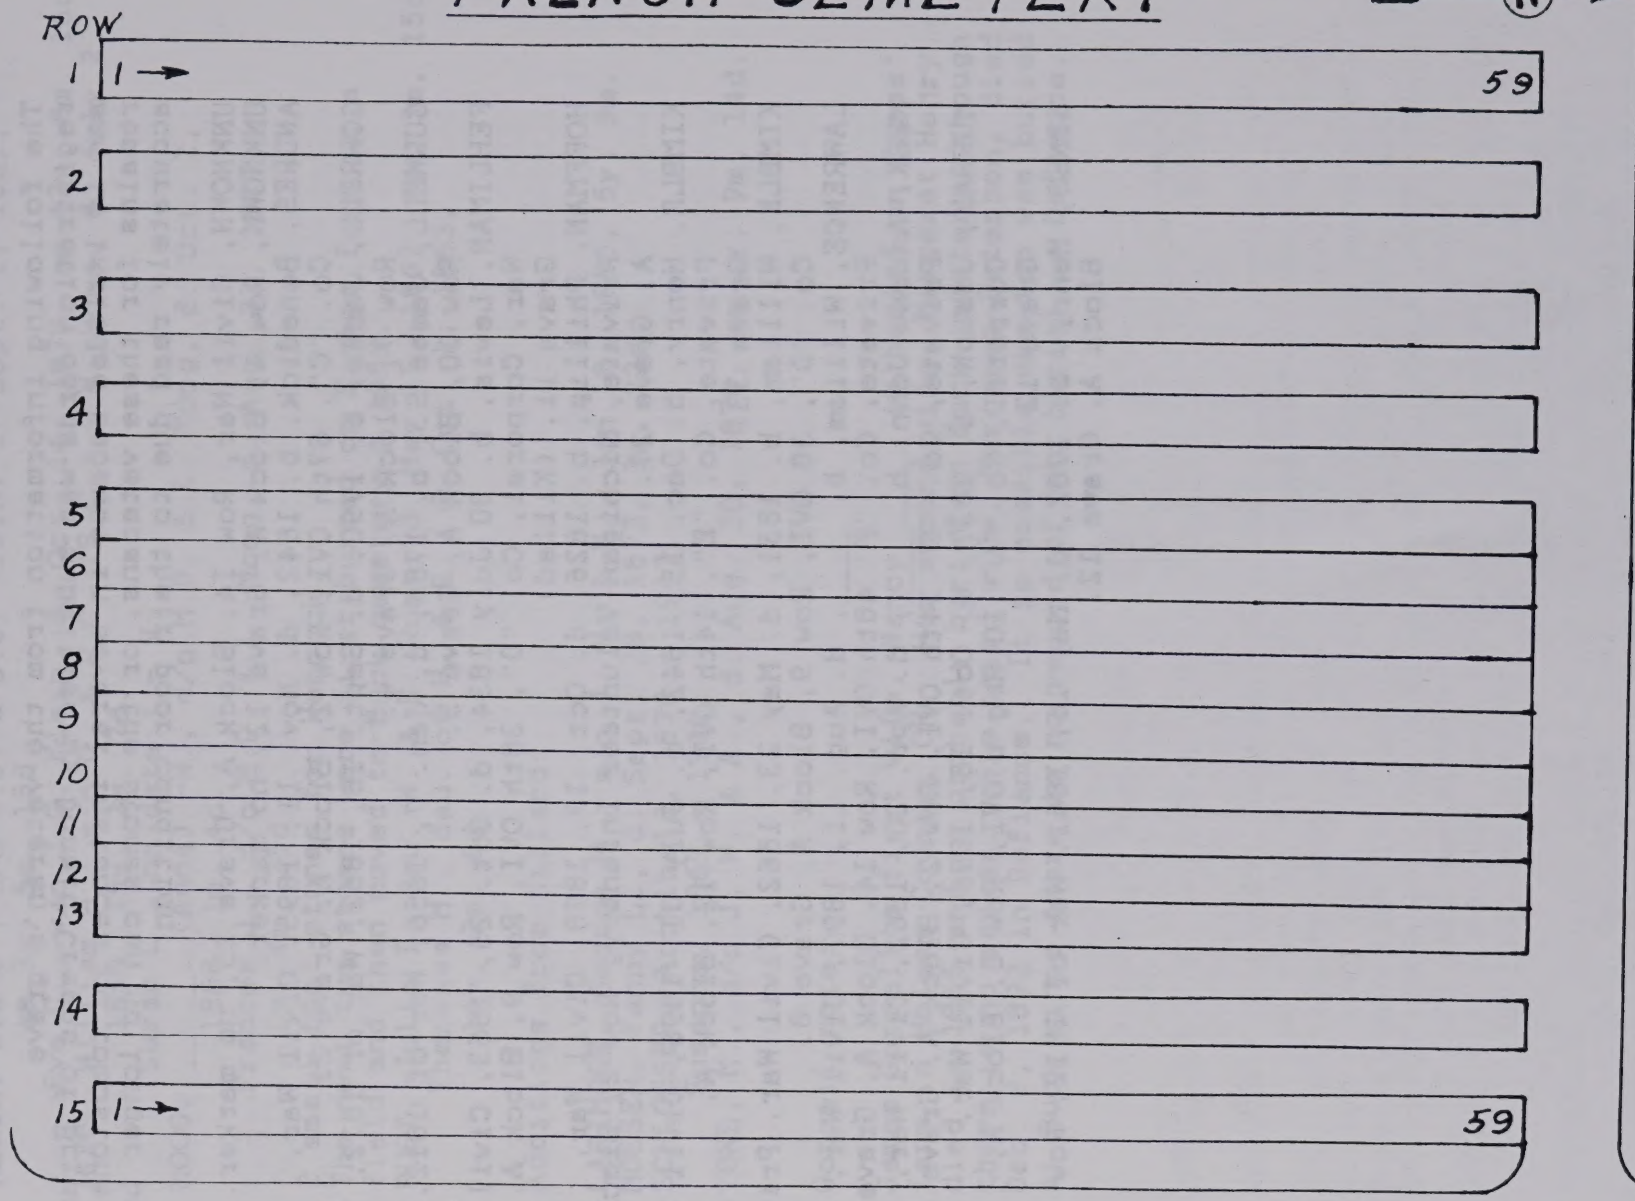
FRENCH CEMETERY



On Williams County Road 19.50

2/10 Mile North Of Wm's. Co. Road F

FRENCH CEMETERY

Location: Springfield Township southwest 1/4 Section 6, on the west side of County Road 19-50 north of County Road F, one mile west of Stryker. U.S. Deed to S. Radabaugh, and acquired by the French Cemetery trustees in 1854. Some epitaphs are in French. This cemetery contains the tombstone of Thomas Jones, a veteran of the Revolutionary War. One account states he was buried in another cemetery, probably the old Radabaugh family cemetery in a field west of the French Cemetery and that his stone was removed to the French Cemetery, where it could more easily be decorated. This cemetery copied by Ernest Gentit, 1991.

Starting at the southwest corner, read south to north.
